Leaders in the Fields:

Seven Successful Municipal Open Space Referendums in the Lehigh Valley

Are you interested in hearing how your community can better protect open space, farmland and natural resource areas? Interested in hearing how land conservation can help avoid community costs resulting from residential development? Interested in learning how this was done successfully in seven Lehigh Valley townships?

Come to a public meeting on Thursday, November 13, 2008 in the Gold Room at the Eastonian Building, 140 Northampton Street in Easton, at 7:00 p.m., to hear why and how these seven townships had successful referendums to conserve important lands in their communities. Please plan to attend. To R.S.V.P., contact Kate Brandes at the Nurture Nature Foundation at 610-253-4432 or kbrandes@nurturenature.org.
